Character Trading Card

Every story needs a main character. Use this trading card template to develop more details about your character. Before you start writing your story, “interview” your fictional character. Draw a picture of your character on the front of the card, and fill out personal facts about your character on the back. That will help you get into your character’s mind and write a detailed description for your story. Cut out the trading card, fold it along the line, and paste it together. For extra reinforcement, you can paste a piece of cardboard inside.
